

DRAFT

17 August 1956

Project Leave Policy for Air Force Personnel Assigned to Project

25X6C

1. Leave accumulation is the same as the Department of Defense policy, i.e. 2½ days a month.

2. The Detachment Commander will grant approval for all leave consistent with meeting project policy. The Detachment Commander can give up to 72-hour passes in accordance with appropriate AF Regulations.

3. Emergency or normal leave to the ZI will count against accumulated annual leave. Emergency leave shall be for severe illness or death in the individual's immediate family.

4. Transportation to the ZI both ways will be by military air or at the expense of the individual.

5. Meeting return dates to duty from leave taken to the ZI will be the responsibility of the individual.

6. Tour of duty in the [REDACTED] area will be 18 months minimum or no more than theater military policy.

25X6C

25X6C

1. Leave accumulation is the same as the Department of Defense policy, i.e. 2½ days a month.

2. The Detachment Commander will grant approval for all leave consistent with meeting project policy. The Detachment Commander can give up to 72-hour passes in accordance with appropriate AF Regulations. The extent of the leave area authorized for 72-hour passes is to be determined by the Detachment Commander.

3. Emergency or normal leave to ZI will count against accumulated annual leave. Emergency leave shall be for severe illness or death in the individual's immediate family.

4. Transportation to the ZI both ways will be by military air or at the expense of the individual.

5. Meeting return dates to duty from leave taken to the ZI will be the responsibility of the individual.

6. Realizing that tour of duty for military personnel without dependents in the [REDACTED] area is 1 year, a minimum of 30 days leave for return to the ZI will be granted at the end of 11 months duty overseas.

25X6C